

GEORGETOWN'S YEAR BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

Nineteen Graduates Receive Diplomas From Hands of Cardinal Gibbons.

MEDALS PRESENTED TO HONOR STUDENTS

Gaston Hall Filled When Exercises Begin—Several Speakers Are Heard.

Georgetown University is quiet today after all the excitement of the ninety-second commencement when nineteen graduates kissed the episcopal ring of Cardinal Gibbons, received from the hands of that prelate their degrees as bachelors of art, listened to words of advice from several speakers, and gave a final yell for their alma mater.

Gaston Hall was filled with people when the members of the graduating class in black caps and gowns filed in, and in crescent line took their places before the cardinal. On the platform beside the cardinal were former Governor Higgins of Rhode Island and Henry Walters, of Baltimore, who received the honorary degree of doctor of laws, and the Rev. J. J. Himmel, S. J., president of the university.

Francis Joseph Hartnett spoke on "Education and the Family," the second speaker from the graduating class, John Baptist Edmund La Plante, chose "Education and the State," and the last of the student speakers was Joseph Weston Montgomery, the valedictorian, who devoted his attention to "Education and the Church."

Degrees Conferred.

Degrees of bachelor of arts were conferred upon the following: Paul Emmet Golden, Pennsylvania; Francis Joseph Hartnett, district of Columbia; John Baptist Edmund La Plante, Indiana; Thomas Eugene Lavelle, Montana; Anthony Vincent Lynch, New York; Francis Thomas Marsden, district of Columbia; Joseph West Montgomery, Louisiana; George Holland Mullins, Washington; Herbert Nicholas Munhall, Pennsylvania; Laurence Dick Smith, Illinois; Joseph Emmet Boland, Pennsylvania; Thomas Maurice Boyle, Pennsylvania; Vincent Augustine Corcoran, Illinois; William Purcell Culklin, Illinois; Joseph Russell Daly, New York; James Alphonso Dilkes, Pennsylvania; John William Eckenrode, Pennsylvania; Edmund Fitzgerald, Jr., New York; and Francis Percival Fitzpatrick, Massachusetts.

Prizes were given to: Gold medal for rational philosophy, Joseph West Montgomery, '09; second prize for rational philosophy, Francis Joseph Hartnett, '09; Mallory medal for the best essay on a constitutional subject, Earl John Mohn, '10; Christian doctrine medal, John D. Foley, '12; Dixon elocution medal, Daniel Bradley Murray, '10; Merrick debating medal, Joseph West Montgomery, '10; Father Murphy medal for the best metrical translation of three odes from Horace, Joseph Davis McNulty, '10; Morris historical medal, Edward Quinton Carr, '10.

Exercises Over.

After a week of preliminary exercises, including concerts, plays, National Park Seminary at Forest Glen, Md., closed its year yesterday when the class of 1909 graduated. Senator Julius Caesar Burrows of Michigan presented the diplomas and made the principal address. The musical program was under the direction of Prof. Joseph Kaspar. One of the pleasant features was the singing of the aria "Perse de Bress" by Miss Frances Kaspar, his daughter.

Those who received diplomas in this, the largest class ever graduated from the Forest Glen institution were:

Reed, Indiana; Dorothy Hazel Reisch, Illinois.

At Georgetown Convent.

One of the last of the scores of commencement exercises in this city will be held at the Georgetown Convent of the Visitation at 2:30 o'clock next Monday, when the annual distribution of prizes to the pupils of the academy will be made.

Manager Thomas S. Lee will preside and the Rev. Aloysius Brennan, S. J., of Georgetown University, will deliver an address.

Alumnae of the convent will meet at 10 o'clock Tuesday for the election of officers and at noon will be entertained at luncheon by the Sisters of the Visitation.

Annual retreat for the alumnae will begin Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. The Rev. Albert Brown, S. J., of the

CLEVER DANCER

R. J. HOOD, At Luna Park.

R. J. Hood, of the vaudeville team of Helston and Hood, at Luna Park this week, is an eccentric dancer, who would probably make George Cohan envious. Mr. Hood learned clog and buck dancing while a member of Primrose & West's Minstrels, and was a special pupil of Mr. Primrose, who turned out so many famous dancers. In his present specialty he introduces an eccentric dance which is half clog and half old-time buck and wing dancing. Though apparently easy such dancing comes only from long practice and perfect physical condition.

MUSIC LID LATEST IN ST. LOUIS TOWN

No More Vocalization or Melody in Apartments After 10 o'clock.

ST. LOUIS, June 4.—No more will the silver-throated tenor or the liquid soprano awake the echoes of St. Louis apartment houses after 10 o'clock; not again will the seductive measures of the "Merry Widow" or the plaintive melody of the violin float up the air shaft in the small hours of night.

City Attorney Anderson has drafted an ordinance to prevent the forty-horse phonograph from photographing and the piano player from pianoing when people in near-by apartments desire to sleep. At 10 p. m. says the ordinance, the lid goes on and it will not be lifted until 7 a. m. persons violating the ordinance to be adjudged guilty of misdemeanor and dealt with accordingly.

NO JAPANESE LABOR.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 4.—Japanese labor will be dropped by the firm of Alexander Baldwin & Co., the largest sugar planters in Hawaii, according to H. L. Baldwin here, who said that on account of the difficulty planters had lately experienced with Japanese workmen, Portuguese would be imported to take their places.

FINED CENT; APPEALS.

TOPEKA, June 4.—Mrs. H. Level was fined 1 cent and costs for disturbing another woman's peace. She gave notice of appeal, and says she will go to the supreme court, if necessary, to beat the judgment.

Jesuit missionary band, of Baltimore, will direct the devotions.

G. W. U. Commencement.

About 150 graduates will receive diplomas at the commencement exercises of all the departments of George Washington University, which will be held at the Belasco Theater next Wednesday morning. A feature will be orations by graduates. James W. Berry will speak on "Benedict Arnold," and Ralph H. Blakeslee on "The Mastery of Mind."

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached next Sunday afternoon at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church by the Rev. Dr. William T. Herridge, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, Canada.

TAKE NEW THEORY IN CHICAGO CASE

Police Now Say Dr. Cleminson Gave Wife Poison, So He Could Leave Home.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The police took a new theory today in the Cleminson murder case when they started an investigation of a report which they allege was made to them, that Dr. Haldane Cleminson gave his wife an overdose of poison by mistake.

According to the report, the doctor had an engagement with another woman and wanted to leave the house without his wife knowing it. They allege he gave her a drug to make her sleep, but that he miscalculated the strength, and death resulted.

The official report of the coroner's physician has not been completed yet, but the coroner stated today that when it is filed it will show the cause of death was morphine poisoning. The police will claim Cleminson administered it to her while they were eating supper.

The authorities are also rounding up the doctor's female acquaintances with the view of questioning them regarding his movements on the day of the tragedy.

BARRY STATUE MODEL WILL SOON BE READY

French Government Asks a Replica for Luxembourg Museum.

The model for the Barry statue is well advanced and will probably be ready for personal inspection by the commission in charge of its purchase by June 25. Information to this effect has been received by Col. Spencer Cosby, executive officer of the Barry Statue Commission, from Andrew O'Connor, the sculptor, who is making the model. Mr. O'Connor further states that the French government has promised to purchase a replica of the statue for the Luxembourg Museum. The matter will be given the choice of the commission before which the letter of Mr. O'Connor will be laid.

GEORGETOWN REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Early Rose Association Buys Site for Headquarters—Other Transactions.

Calvin Payne, 5820 Dumbarton avenue northwest, has sold to the Early Rose Association a tract of ground on Twenty-seventh street, between Dumbarton avenue and O street northwest. The tract fronts 90 feet on Twenty-seventh street, by a depth of 120 feet, and contains 10,800 square feet. The improvements consist of a large frame dwelling. The association, which is a beneficial society, intends to build its headquarters on the site.

T. W. Nordlinger et al., trustees, have sold to Isaac B. Nordlinger, the three-story brick building, 3129 M street northwest. The property is described as part of lot 5, square 1159.

Richard Douglas Sims, treasurer of the Capital Traction Company, has deeded to James B. Rouse the Sims home place on the west side of Thirty-first street, near N street, northwest.

Annie P. Welch has sold to Anna R. Campfield lots 19, 20, 21, and 22, block 1, in the Whitehaven and Harlem subdivision, upon which the purchaser will build a frame dwelling.

MRS. W. A. PEASE BETTER.

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., June 4.—Mrs. W. A. Pease, daughter of Rear Admiral Frederick Rogers, U. S. N., is reported to be much improved and the injuries she received by being thrown from a pony cart will leave no permanent disability. Mrs. Pease was trying out a new pony yesterday when the animal bolted, and the cart it was drawing was overturned. Mrs. Pease was thrown out and was painfully injured.

FALL DOWNSTAIRS FATAL.

CHESTER, Pa., June 4.—Mrs. Maria Ward, of Ridley Park, died suddenly from complications which developed from a shock to her nervous system by fracturing her ankle about two weeks ago in a fall downstairs. She was sixty years old.

LOST MEMORY MAN'S IDENTITY CLEARING

New Haven Patient Recognized as Resident of Hoboken in 1902.

NEW HAVEN, June 4.—The mystery surrounding the antecedents of Charles Van Osten, who has been at Grace Hospital for the last seven months suffering from loss of memory and unable to recall any incident of his past, cleared somewhat today when two men who formerly worked with him identified him as a man who lived at 114 Washington street, Hoboken, in 1902. They said he had two children at that time. August Merkel and August Dostern, of New York, made the identification.

Emil Baumgartel, an insurance agent, has lived at 114 Washington street, Hoboken, for a number of years. Last night he recalled that a man named Oscar Van Osten had lived there with his wife in 1902. They had no children. Mr. Baumgartel says the Van Ostens had a penchant for entertaining stewards with the opportunity to enjoy the fact that his father was of noble birth. Mrs. Baumgartel said she had seen the published pictures of the man in the New Haven Hospital and was certain he was not the one who lived in Hoboken at the address named.

EXCURSIONS.

With the opening of Chevy Chase, hundreds of pleasure seekers have been enabled nightly to enjoy the amusement of that park. The car service, combined with the opportunity to enjoy the variety of amusements offered, have attracted a large patronage.

The chief attraction of the music furnished by the Marine Band, besides the concerts, there is the illuminated riding track, with its saddle ponies and burro carts, together with the bowling alleys, motion pictures, shooting gallery, and the big swings which have been provided for the children.

For the maximum of enjoyment at the minimum cost, the traveling public is this season, as in the past, quick to recognize the advantages of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company's week-end trips. Tickets for these are sold Fridays and Saturdays of each week, the steamers leaving at 8:45 p. m. in advance at the ticket office, 705 Fourteenth street northwest, Colorado building, is an advantage, for there is a big demand for state rooms.

One ticket defrays steamer expenses and full board at the Old Point hotel, the traveler having the choice of the Chamberlin or the Sherwood.
